4. The yearly norm for the team is 90 tons of fish. Lake Bukowo yields pikes, perch-pikes and eels. Because of a poor season in 1953 the yearly norm was not fulfilled. An attempt was made to increase the catch using the fry of carps and tenches but this did not help.
5. The catch from Lake Bukowo is sent to the refrigerating unit in Bukowo where it is frozen then shipped to the railroad station at Tarlowo. From Tarlowo the fish are transported to the fishing unit in Slupsk.
